Reading Race Three: Phillip Pullman	In this reading race you need to read at least one fiction book and one book from an author that you haven't read before.
Task 1: Create dictionary definitions for five of the words that you didn't know before reading this book. Write three of them in sentences.	Task 2: Choose a chapter of your book. Write some questions that can be answered by reading that chapter. Read the section of your book to someone younger than you and ask them the questions. Record their answers.	Task 3: What is your favourite genre of book? Why is that your favourite?
Task 4: Read a section of your book to an adult, ask them for their opinion of the book. Write down their thoughts.	Task 5: Look at the books you have read. Which two would you most recommend? Why would you recommend them?	Task 6: Take a picture of yourself reading in three different random places. How did the places effect what you read?
